
Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1 The Memory of Reconstruction and the Cauldron of Labor Militancy, 1900–1908	17
2 Organizing the “Largely Unorganized Drift of Desire”: The Protocol of Peace and the Cautious Embrace of Radicalism, 1908–1914	38
3 “Industrialism on Trial”: The Commission on Industrial Relations and the High Tide of Coalition Politics, 1914–1917	60
4 “An Advancing if Uncheckable Avalanche”: World War I, 1917–1918	79
5 A Rule of Reason Correctly Applied: The Red Scare and the Rights of Radicals, 1919–1920	104
6 “A Welding Together of the Forward-Looking Voters”: The Farmer-Labor Party and the Renewal of Coalition Politics, 1920–1924	129
Conclusion	149
List of Abbreviations	159
Notes	161
Bibliography	205
Index	219