

---

Contents

Preface / Michael Dylan Foster and Ray Cashman	vii
THE PROVOCATION
1 Folkloristics in the Twenty-First Century / Alan Dundes	3
RESPONSES
2 America's Antitheoretical Folkloristics / Lee Haring	39
3 The Sweep of Knowledge: The Politics of Grand and Local Theory in Folkloristics / Gary Alan Fine	47
4 What('s) Theory? / Margaret A. Mills	54
5 The Philology of the Vernacular: / Richard Bauman	63
6 Humble Theory / Dorothy Noyes	71
7 Grand Theory, Nationalism, and American Folklore / John W. Roberts	78
8 There Is No Grand Theory in Germany, and for Good Reason / James R. Dow	88
COMMENTS
9 What Theory Is / Newton Garver	99
10 Weak Theory in an Unfinished World / Kathleen Stewart	106
11 "Or in Other Words": Recasting Grand Theory / Kirin Narayan	118
12 Disciplining Folkloristics / Charles L. Briggs	125

AFTERWORDS

13	Reflections on Grand Theory, Graduate School, and Intellectual Ballast / Chad Edward Buterbaugh	143
14	Ten Years After / Lee Haring	148
	Index	151