

---

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments . . . . .	ix
Introduction . . . . .	I
PART I. The Making of a Resource Frontier . . . . .	21
1. Resource Frontiers in the Montane Tropics . . . . .	25
2. Colonialism, Mining, and Missionization . . . . .	49
PART II. Indigenous Philosophies of Nature, Culture, and Place . . . . .	77
3. Land: Yu . . . . .	81
4. People: Wandakali . . . . .	105
5. Spirits: Yama . . . . .	129
PART III. Social-Ecological Perturbations and Human Responses . . . . .	157
6. Ecological Perturbations and Human Responses . . . . .	163
7. Social Dislocations: Work, Antiwork, and Highway Life . . . . .	199
Conclusion: Development, Resilience, and the End of the Land . . . . .	229
Notes . . . . .	241
References . . . . .	249
Index . . . . .	269