

Contents

Introduction: Outward bound — 3

Passages I: Hunting whales off the coast of Africa — 38

1 From whaling ground to trading port: Walvis Bay, 1780–1860 — 65

2 Discord magnified: Delagoa Bay, 1780–1845 — 117

Passages II: Experiencing the world aboard a whaler — 156

3 A stabilising flow of goods: Saint Augustin, Madagascar, 1830–1860 — 211

4 Provisioning as a power resource: Mutsamudu, Anjouan, 1835–1890 — 239

5 Promise and endeavour: Port Louis, Mauritius, 1789–1878 — 279

Passages III: Going ashore — 324

6 Under the sign of abolition: Cabinda, 1850–1855 — 362

7 The emergence of a west African whaling community: San Antonio, Annobón, 1825–1950 — 399

8 Whaleships into migration vehicles: Furna, Brava, 1770–1920 — 443

Conclusion: Homeward bound — 503

Archival Sources — 509

Published Sources — 519

References — 529

Vessels Index — 557

Places Index — 563